Announcements

Seeking $90 donors to reach our goal

Thanks to all the generous donations, BHSU is so very close to reaching the United Way giving level of last year. We are seeking three people willing to give a $90 donation (one-time payment or a payroll deduction of $7.50 per month) to make that goal. An anonymous donor has agreed to match all donations in this final week of the year, so it's a great time to give or increase your giving level. The United Way supports 24 non-profits in Northern Hills focused on health and human services.

Please let me (Corinne.Hansen@BHSU.edu) or Terry.Hupp@BHSU.edu know if you are willing to make a donation.

Events

Open Mic Night

Prizes, Food and Fun! BHSU Jacket Zone at 617 Main Street in Spearfish is hosting "Open Mic Night” for anyone interested in performing music, comedy, or poetry Thursday, December 28th from 5:30 - 7pm. We provide the mic and amplifier; you just need to bring your instruments, props, etc.

All performers will have a chance in a drawing for a gift card. A panel of judges will also choose someone to perform at half-time during an upcoming BHSU basketball game!!

This is a great way to test your talents or promote your band with a small audience! Please come and join in by performing or cheering on those who do!

Please call us at (605) 717-5801 to reserve a time, or send us a message through our Facebook page, BHSU Jacket Zone. Walk-ins will be accepted if time allows.

ArtCentral FILM FESTIVAL: “More Than a Word”

The Matthews and Black Hills State University, through the work of ArtCentral, hosts the first ArtCentral Film Festival of 2018. Four films, one per month, are offered from Jan. 21 through April 12, 2018. All films are free and open to the public.

APR. 12 | 6:30 p.m.

Location: Black Hills State University, 1200 University St., Spearfish, SD, JONAS Hall, Room305

Co-Host: BHSU Center for American Indian Studies

“More Than A Word” analyzes the Washington DC professional football team and their use of the derogatory term “R*dskins.” Using interviews from both those in favor of changing the name and those against, “More Than A Word” presents a deeper analysis of the many issues surrounding the Washington team name. The documentary also examines the history of Native American cultural appropriation.

Following each film, the co-hosting organization will help facilitate a discussion about ideas presented in the film. Co-hosts for films are organizations in the Spearfish community. They will help people talk about how these issues relate to the community.

ArtCentral FILM FESTIVAL: “Make No Noise: The Story of a SkatePark”

The Matthews and Black Hills State University, through the work of ArtCentral, hosts the first ArtCentral Film Festival of 2018. Four films, one per month, are offered from Jan. 21 through April 12, 2018. All films are free and open to the public.

Location: The Matthews Opera House theater

Hosted by director Cecilia Cornejo

Film 3 of 4, “Make No Noise” chronicles the process of securing a site for a permanent skatepark in Northfield, MN and the subsequent support of local skateboarders whose efforts date back to 1998, when the city banned skateboarding from its streets. The film examines Northfield's delay in responding to the needs of these youth, calling into question the town's view of itself and its reputation as a welcoming community that's especially good for kids. Celebrating the skateboarders' resolve to create a place for their sport, the film is a testament to young people's resilience, dedication, and perseverance.

Following each film, the co-hosting organization will help facilitate a discussion about ideas presented in the film. Co-hosts for films are organizations in the Spearfish community. They will help people talk about how these issues relate to the community.

ArtCentral FILM FESTIVAL: "Waste Land"

The Matthews and Black Hills State University, through the work of ArtCentral, hosts the first ArtCentral Film Festival of 2018. Four films, one per month, are offered from Jan. 21 through April 12, 2018. All films are free and open to the public.

TUES. FEB. 20 | 6:30 P.M. | The Matthews' theater

The 2nd of 4 films, "Waste Land" is an uplifting feature documentary highlighting the transformative power of art and the beauty of the human spirit. Top-selling contemporary artist, Vik Muniz, takes us on an emotional journey from Jardim Gramacho, the world's largest landfill on the outskirts of Rio de Janeiro, to the heights of international art stardom. Vik collaborates with the brilliant catadores, pickers of recyclable materials. They are true Shakespearean characters who live and work in the garbage quoting Machiavelli and showing us how to recycle ourselves.

Co-host: BHSU Sustainability Committee

Following each film, the co-hosting organization will help facilitate a discussion about ideas presented in the film. Co-hosts for films are organizations in the Spearfish community. They will help people talk about how these issues relate to the community.

ArtCentral FILM FESTIVAL: "If You Build It"

JAN 21 | 2 PM | The Matthews theater
612 N. Main Street, Spearfish, SD

DETAILS: <http://www.matthewsopera.com/ac-film-fest-1/>

The Matthews and Black Hills State University, through the work of ArtCentral, hosts the first ArtCentral Film Festival of 2018. Four films, one per month, are offered from Jan. 21 through April 12, 2018. All films are free and open to the public.

The first of 4 films, "If You Build It" follows designer-activists Emily Pilloton and Matthew Miller to rural Bertie County, the poorest in North Carolina. They work with local high school students to help transform both their community and their lives. Living on credit and grant money and fighting a change-resistant school board, Pilloton and Miller lead their students through a year-long, full-scale design and build project that does much more than just teach basic construction skills. It shows ten teenagers the power of design-thinking to reinvent not just their town but their own sense of what's possible.

Following each film, the co-hosting organization will help facilitate a discussion about ideas presented in the film. Co-hosts for films are organizations in the Spearfish community. They will help people talk about how these issues relate to the community.
