Announcements

Snow Removal

A special thank-you to Facilities Services staff for working on a holiday to make sure the campus was cleaned and ready for us to come back to class and work on Tuesday! With constant melting and refreezing, there will be icy patches despite efforts to sand and salt. Please wear smart shoes and walk carefully!

Do you like to write? Add a creative writing course this fall.

Exciting news! A new creative writing course has been added to fall 2018. ENGL 483: Advanced Creative Writing. In this course, we will focus on the elements of craft and major genre conventions in the first half of the semester. In the last half of the semester, you will work on a project of your choice, such as a collection of poetry, a novella, a graphic novel, or a collection of short stories, etc.

The course is being offered MWF from 10-10:50am. Sign up on WebAdvisor or contact Dr. Huse Wika for more information: Courtney.HuseWika@BHSU.edu

Internship Opportunity - Sales with DishONE

A representative from Dish One, who is a BHSU Alum, will be visiting campus on Wednesday, February 28th. They are doing a short presentation to promote their one of a kind summer Sales Internship program. Dr. Bobbi Looney has invited him to attend her class. We are looking for other opportunities for him to speak with students and faculty. If you are a student and would like to schedule a one on one chat with Dish One to learn about this amazing opportunity OR if you are a faculty member and see the benefit in having Dish One speak to your class, please reach out to Hans Nelson, Director of Corporate Relations.

Annual Photo Exhibition | The Philippines, Through the Lens of Service Learning

Reception Thursday, February 22, 5-7PM

The Fine Arts Department invites you to join us in celebrating the Annual Photo Exhibition on display at the Ruddell Gallery. This exhibition features some of the stunning photographs of BHSU students and Photo Professor Jerry Rawlings documenting the recent service trip to the Philippines. The International Service Learning Program provides experiential education opportunities for students to address human and community needs. This innovative BHSU program presents a unique opportunity for students to experience structured international opportunities intentionally designed to promote student learning and development. The exhibition will run from February 14 - March 16, 2018.

Geek Speak: "A little more than kin and less than kind."

Please join us for this week's Geek Speak on Thursday, February 22 at 4:00 in Jonas 305: Dr. Amy Fuqua will present, "A little more than kin and less than kind."

The Bantu people of Nigeria say, "Umuntu ngumuntu ngabantu," a human being is human because of other human beings. The Lakota people of High Plains of North American say, "Mitakuye Oyasin," we are all related. This project will examine the idea of relation across religious and cultural traditions.

(BONUS! Dr. Fuqua will host an encore Geek Speak at the Jacket Zone at 617 Main St. on Friday, February 23, at 4:00 p.m. Join us at either location on either day.)

Ice Fishing at Deerfield Lake: The 4 C's (Catch, Clean, Cook, Consume)

The Collegiate Outdoor Leadership Program (COLP) and SD Game, Fish, and Parks are partnering on an ice fishing program on Sunday, February 25th. Two vans have been reserved. Meet at the Young Center cul-de-sac at 8:00 am. One van will return by 2:00; the other by 5:30.

WHAT TO BRING: Each participant needs to purchase a fishing license ahead of time to participate (either a day pass or yearly). Those can be purchased online at <https://gfp.sd.gov/hunt-fish-license/>. If you are not a SD resident, you can get in-state rates if you go to Walmart and show your BHSU ID. You also need to bring warm clothes, at least 1 liter of water, and a sack lunch (hopefully, we will eat fish, but you never know).

All gear will be provided. At the program, Keith Wintersteen, program specialist with SD Game, Fish, and Parks, will give tips on Catching, Cleaning, Cooking, & Consuming, and participants will get to do all four things (that is, if the fish cooperate!).

For more information, contact Rachel Dather, COLP host, at Rachel.Dather@YellowJackets.BHSU.edu or 402-640-5196.

Hunting 101 Program with SD GFP

The Collegiate Outdoor Leadership Program (COLP) and SD Game, Fish, and Parks are partnering on a 4 session "Hunting 101" class to be held Wednesday nights Feb. 21, 28 & March 7 & 14 from 5:30 - 7:30 pm in Young Center 206. Lots of hands-on!

Many folks are realizing the ethic of hunting your own protein from your local area. Gain skills, make contacts with SD GFP, and have fun too. Taught by Keith Wintersteen, program specialist with SD Game, Fish, and Parks.

For more information, contact Rachel Dather, COLP host, at Rachel.Dather@YellowJackets.BHSU.edu or 402-640-5196.
