Announcements

Have you ever considered earning college credit for an internship?

Juniors & Seniors from the School of Business get paid for earning college credit and earn experience along the way!

Email Mela.Cosme@BHSU.edu to find out if you are eligible for an internship.

Fall 2017 Internships applications should be completed by no later than September 15 to allow completion by the end of the semester.

Faculty- We would love to come to your business class and present a brief presentation about the School of Business Internship Application process. Email Mela Cosme or Helen Merriman (Helen.Merriman@BHSU.edu) to schedule!

Student Food Pantry

Are you in need of food or personal/household care items? Visit the BHSU Pantry. Located at the ROTC entrance of Humbert Hall, the pantry is open M-F, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., excluding holidays. There are various food options, as well as household and personal care items. Please take what you need. If something you need isn't available, or if you have questions, send a quick note to Dr. Courtney.HuseWika@bhsu.edu.

Addressing On-Campus Mail

If you are sending On-Campus mail you must include a proper Unit Number with the name of the person you are addressing it to.

Please do not send on-campus mail without a proper Unit Number. Mail services sort's mail by Unit Numbers. A proper 'Unit Number' on the address is important with people you correspond with so we can minimize the chance of your mail getting lost. Several years ago BHSU did a major Departmental and Office restructure. As a result many Faculty & Staff unit numbers changed. Please insure your University based correspondents know the correct 'Unit Number' you want the mail to go to. Thank you for your support in this matter.

Correction: International Studies Certificate (Proposed)

The International Studies Certificate announced in this week's e-update should have read "proposed" rather than "finalized." Once final approvals are given, we will re-announce. In the meantime, students can start to take global courses (where there is an option to do so) so they will be ready to achieve this certificate with their study abroad experience. Thanks for your understanding with this miscommunication.

Faculty participate in Special Topics panel on Fake News and Scientific Fact - now on BHSU TV's YouTube channel

In spring 2017, several BHSU faculty and students participated in four one-hour, two-part Special Topics panels that were featured on campus radio. Now, with summer production completed by MCOM student Jose Morales, the series is also being broadcast on campus TV and YouTube. Here's the link to "Fake News and Scientific Fact" featuring faculty Ryan Clark, Nathan Deichert and Kara Keeter, with host and editor Mary Caton-Rosser. Note, the video is a visual collage of the audio presentation, not intended to be visibly lip-synched.

Submitting Announcements and Events

Just a reminder:

When you are submitting Announcements for the Campus E-Update newsletter submit them at BHSU.edu/Announcements. There's a student and a faculty/staff edition sent out every Tuesday and Thursday.

If you are submitting Events for the Campus Calendar, submit details to BHSU.edu/Calendar or BHSU.edu/Events.

We are working on a way to make this process easier!

Thanks!

Geek Speak "Simulations of History: 8 Second Looks at 4 Iconic Photos"

On Thursday, August 31 at 4 pm in Jonas 110

Dr. Tim Steckline presents:

The Hindenberg exploding and burning. Oswald's face contorting as he is shot by Jack Ruby. A plane crashing into the side of a tower. Photos present us with a representation of reality, something so convincingly reminiscent of our vision of the everyday world seen in its shifting veil of light, that we readily accept photographs as faithful evidence of an objective past. But photography constructs realities, and converts the past as experienced into a frozen simulation of history, an iconic image. To test this idea, four significant and familiar photos from the past will be given a second look, contextualized, analyzed, interpreted . . . and then, upon a second second look, shown to be problems for interpretation. The photos for our consideration will be The Flag-Raising at Mt. Suribachi (1945), shot by Joe Rosenthal; The V-J Day Kiss (1945), by Alfred Eisenstaedt; The Napalmed Girl (1972), by Nick Uts; and The Tank Man (1989), by Jeff Widener. Come ready with eyes bigger than your stomach, as there will be a picnic of full helpings of scopophilia, with sides of captions, spiced with several invidious comparisons, and topped with a dash of snarky iconoclasm. After dinner mints are gratis, courtesy of photojournalists everywhere.

All lectures are held in Jonas 110 at 4:00 p.m. on Thursdays and are free and open to the public.

Rapid City Rush Internship Fair

August 28, 4:00 to 5:00, Club Buzz

Representatives of the Rapid City Rush hockey team will be on-campus to host an internship fair. The Rush are looking for interns to serve in a variety of positions during their busy home game schedule. Generally they are looking for BHSU students who can help promote the Rush hockey team events, sales, and marketing. Students will receive free Rush tickets if they are selected to assist the team.

BB teams will be at Downtown Friday Night

Thanks to everyone who participated in BHSU night at Downtown Friday nights last week. It was one of the largest crowds of the season and it was great to see Sting and lots of green and gold to celebrate the start of the Fall 2017 semester. The new student scavenger hunt created additional excitement!

This week, men's and women's basketball will be available at the BHSU booth in front of the Jacket Zone. Stop by and say hello. The following week, and the final Spearfish Friday night of the season, is set for Sept. 1. International studies will be downtown that evening.

Thanks for taking part in this fun outreach activity all summer. It's an excellent way to have a stronger presence in the community.
