January 16th, 2012 is the day we will observe Martin Luther King Jr's Birthday. It's also a day that is recognized as a national day of volunteer service.

Every year, on or around MLK day, nonprofits and volunteers across the United States commit to doing service projects in celebration of Dr. King's legacy. If your organization is planning any MLK Day events or projects, please let us know. We would love the opportunity to cheer on your efforts through recognition in our publications and through state and national RSVP project reports.
